Daniel Lewis Announces Libertarian Candidacy for United States Senate From Tennessee

Nashville, Tennessee, March 9, 2008 – Daniel Lewis announces his Libertarian candidacy for the United States Senate from Tennessee. The Tennessee Division of Elections has verified (in a letter dated March 3, 2008) that Daniel Lewis will be placed on the November 4, 2008 ballot as a candidate for United States Senate. On Saturday March 8, 2008 the Libertarian Party of Tennessee officially selected Daniel Lewis as their Candidate for United States Senate at their annual convention held in Nashville, Tennessee.

Daniel Lewis is currently serving as the chairman of the Libertarian Party of Metropolitan Nashville and Davidson County. Daniel Lewis ran for the Tennessee House in 2004. Daniel Lewis is seeking the office of United States Senator from Tennessee to offer the voters an alternative to those that will be offered by the Republican and Democratic party. Daniel Lewis supports reducing the size, scope and power of government at all levels and on all issues, and opposes increasing the size, scope or power of government at any level or for any purpose.
